Adithya Jose (ajose21) and Joshua Samuel (jsamue22).

We both worked equally on the project. I made the wireframe for the beginning, and what it should generally look like. Joshua started off the coding, and we worked through a LOT (key word: a LOT) of errors that came up. Our grid didn't work. Then our server wasn't working. Then the sockets weren't connecting. Etc etc. It is nice to work in partners because that's more realistic to the real world – in my internship we had multi person teams + multiple teams working together.
